REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the citizens of NORTH HAMPTON :

If anything the interest taken in reading the books belonging to the Public Library has increased for the past year, and it is pleasing to know that more substantial books have a considerable patronage. While works of fiction are largely chosen, those of history, biography, and travel are not passed by. One hundred dollars and a few cents have been expended in the purchase of one hundred and fifteen volumes during the year. One large volume has been donated by ex-Mayor Gurney of Newburyport for which we express your thanks ; also Harper's Magazines for 1899 by Mrs. C. H. Bell of Exeter who has for many years shown an interest in this work, which we highly appreciate , and for which we are truly grateful.

We are sadly wanting in library conveniences, and soon must burst our bounds, or cease to add new books. Of course this last cannot be entertained.

We would recommend the same as we did last year, that the town appropriate one hundred and fifty five dollars for library purposes for the present year.

Respectfully submitted,

T. V. HAINES, }
GEO. A. BOYNTON, }
G. W. PHILBRICK, }

SCHOOL REPORT.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NORTH HAMPTON :

Concerning our schools for the past year, the School Board is pleased to report that earnest work has been performed by the efficient teachers as heretofore, and on the whole, satisfactory progress has been made by the scholars. The average ability and disposition of our scholars will compare favorably with almost any school. The aim of the Primaries—the most difficult and important department—has been to make the school attractive and start the children in the right direction. In the East Grammar school drawing has proven a complete success. In the Centre Grammar the scholars have been put upon their honor, and they have proved themselves to be worthy of it.

A course of study has been outlined and put in the hands of the scholars, as well as sent to every family from which scholars come; and it is hoped that with this outline the scholars will be stimulated to do better work, as written examinations are required, and the honor of graduation offered to those who satisfactorily complete the course. It is hoped that diplomas will be given to the scholars in the eighth grade of both schools at the close of the school year.

Wentworth's Arithmetics have been put into the Grammar schools. Some other changes in text books are needed and will soon be made.

The schools at the Centre were suspended for two weeks on account of the appearance of scarlet fever, in some of the families, and the attendance has been unusually small during the winter term, mainly from this cause. This, of course, is to be regretted, although it could not be avoided.

Miss Eva M. Dalton, the faithful and valued teacher of the East Primary school, has felt it her duty to resign her charge at the close of the seventh week of the winter term, because of the sickness of her mother. While we regret the loss of a teacher so eminently fitted for her place, we admire her loyalty to her parent. Miss Annie B. Whidden of Woburn, Mass., who substituted in this school for one week at the commencement of the term, has taken her place with every prospect of full success.

High toned morality has been inculcated in our schools, and careful attention is given to call out what is best in each scholar with the view of emphasizing those particular qualities.

We wish to repeat what has been frequently said in the past, that parents by their expressed interest may have much to do in making the schools what we desire.

ROLL OF HONOR.
